FY2022 Results by Segment / eBASE Business

eBASE Business (Packaged software business)

- In the food industry, we have received orders for “ eShoku Catalogs ” that connect “online supermarkets (e-commerce sites)” and “electronic shelf labels” of several retail companies, as well as informal orders.
- In the daily necessities goods industry, we have received new orders for product planning and development support solution “PDM eBASE” for product manufacturers and PB vendors at major convenience stores and major drug stores.
- In the housing industry, the production operation of equipment information disclosure for owners using “Jutaku Ebisu ” and “eSumai Navi” started in February 2022 at a major house maker. Inquiries from several major house makers and small and medium-sized house builders are also increasing.
- In addition to delays and stagnation in business negotiations and acceptance inspection work due to the recurrence of new corona infections after January 2022, some businesses projects have been postponed or postponed to the next fiscal year or later. In addition, some orders, deliveries, and acceptance inspections have been postponed to the following fiscal year or later.
- Due to the unexpectedly high load response of the one of large-scale projects that have been delivered and inspected by the third quarter, the negotiations for the next project have been delayed (Trouble was over).
